Remodeling to start in fall at future facilities says BAHC

The Bethel Area Health Center expects to begin remodeling the former A&P building on Railroad Street this fall, officials said this week.

Expansion plans for the Health Center will include much needed new services. There will be an X-ray and casting room, which will be equipped to deal with simple fractures. Laboratory services will be expanded to deal with more complicated laboratory procedures than previously. Rental space will be available to physicians who deal in specialty care, thus saving patients from having to travel 24-50 miles in order to see a specialist.

In the six years that the Center has been in operation, its federal support has declined by 24 percent from representing more than half of its total income to a present level of less than one third. It is the ultimate goal of the Council to support the Center's medical services without dependence on federal sources. The building program will provide more services to more people allowing the Center to support its medical services locally.

Expansion is costly. In order to realize the plans for a new facility and to minimize costly construction loans the trustees of the Bethel Area Health Center are initiating a fundraising campaign. Carolyn Holden is general chairperson of the campaign. The Steering Committee members include Steve Wight, Cathy Newell, Chris Otten, Jeff Parsons, and Sarah Craig. Dozens of people are serving on the various sub committees. Preliminary plans have been discussed and the goal of the fund raising committee is to assure that this is truly a grass roots effort and that everyone who would like to participate has an opportunity.

The committee has established a goal of $98,000. A body temperature of $98.6°F means good health—a financial goal of $98,000 represents a community commitment toward good health for the future. Everyone is excited to see and hear so many positive responses to the very beginning stages of the effort. It shows that this is a very responsive community with a great deal of interest in its health care.

The Health Center is a major activity of the Northern Oxford Health and Service Council. The Council is the outgrowth of the Community Welfare

THE GIRLS OF SUMMER: Women's softball league action is in full swing, and the newly organized Bethel Brewers hosted West Paris last Friday night at the Telstar field. The home team couldn't handle the visitors—who were last year's champs—and suffered a 3-0 loss. Above, Marlene Dunn, of the Brewers, gets just a piece of the ball. The loss left Bethel with a very respectable 3-1 record, while West Paris improved its record to 4-1. The Brewers will play the Cribbage Board at the Oxford Hills Junior High field in South Paris tonight, Wednesday.

Newry tax bills go out this week

The Newry Board of Selectmen met yesterday (Tuesday) and prepared tax returns for the state Bureau of Taxation and the county treasurer, and certificates of commitment for the town treasurer and tax collector.

The tax bills have been received from the computer service, Integrated Municipal Services, and the collector and clerk worked Tuesday afternoon folding them and putting them into the envelopes to mail.

The total tax commitment is $188,068.01 on an assessed valuation of $16,497,194. Total to be raised is $221,972.95, with $33,904.94 raised from other sources. The tax bills should go out this week.

A 2 percent discount will be allowed on all taxes paid within 30 days, with interest at 1 percent per month, or part thereof, charged on all taxes not paid before Oct. 1. Interest will start on that date.

It was decided that the tax collector would not act as an agent for the state for re-registering motor vehicles.

A treasurer's warrant was made to pay the school payment and other current bills.

Monday, Selectman Steve Wight and Les Otten, president of Sunday River Skiway Corp., went to Augusta to meet with officials of the Department of Transportation concerning the town's request that the state take over the heavily travelled skiway access road. Department officials are expected to visit Newry in a couple of weeks to examine the situation.

The selectmen will meet again on Tuesday, July 2, at 9 a.m. at the town office.

MSAD #44 Directors' meeting

The SAD #44 Board of Directors met in regular session on Monday evening of this week in the library at Telstar Regional High School.

The board decided to accept successful completion of a science course in summer school as credit for the 1984-85 school year. The case involved a Telstar Middle School 7th grader who was academically deficient in the subject during the regular year.

Dan Hart, Telstar guidance director, reported that 69 students are enrolled in the Telstar Summer School. Nine courses are being offered in the six week/60 hour remedial program for 8th to 12th graders of SAD #44 and other schools. Classes started on Thursday, June 20, and will end on Wednesday, July 31.

The directors approved following as summer workers: maintenance—Tommy Sweetser; custodial—Eugene Buswell, Ann Roy, Harry Stevens.

Approved as a secondary science teacher was Steven P. Keane of Wiscasset. The approval is contingent upon Mr. Stevens' re-certification by the State Department of Educational and Cultural Services. For the past two years Mr. Keane has been an environmental education instructor/leader with the Chevonki Foundation in Wiscasset, where he taught teacher recertification courses, family workshops, residential and off-site environmental education programs. Previously he had been associated with the Training Development Corporation, Job Corps Center, Bangor, for a year and a half. Other positions included: substitute teacher in the Old Town Junior and senior high school; Young Adult Conservation Corps, Glasgow AFB, Glasgow, Mont.; Youth Conservation Corps, Moosehorn National Wildlife Refuge, Calais; and a crew leader at Moosehorn National Wildlife Refuge. Mr. Keane is a 1980 graduate of

RR Museum on track

A special meeting of the Bethel Area Steam Era Railroadiana was held Sunday evening. It was voted to accept the Bethel Area Health Center's gracious offer to utilize space formerly occupied by the liquor store, next to the Bulldog Diner on Bethel's Railroad Street, as a temporary summer site for the Bethel Area Steam Era Railroadiana. If all goes according to plan, the museum will be open for the July 4th holiday.

After clean-up on Tuesday, the space will be ready on Wednesday (today) for moving the artifacts and memorabilia from Ed Quinn's residence to the museum site.

Look for advance announcement of the grand opening in this paper. The museum is expected to be open daily, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Volunteers are desperately needed to staff the museum. Any interested parties, please contact Sandy Strickland at the RPD #1 Restaurant—824-2810.

Androscoggin River canoe race June 30

The sixth annual Maine Flatwater Canoe Championships are scheduled for Sunday, June 30, starting at the Twin Oaks Campground in Bethel and ending 20 miles downstream at Dino's Pizza in Rumford Center.

The race will start at 11:30 a.m. with registration forms available at 10:30 that morning.

Trophies will be awarded to all categories of entrants from the novice beginner to the experienced canoeist.

The mass start by class makes an interesting race for all watching. The Androscoggin River is visible from many locations on Route 2 and the Middle Intervale Road. The river winds peacefully through the beautiful western mountains. Only one location, where Bear River joins the Androscoggin, sees any white water, and that stretch is moderate.

For more information contact race organizer Tim Carter, 824-2230.

1985 sessions of NTL in full swing

Last weekend saw the arrival of approximately 260 participants and staff for the first week of NTL's 1985 summer conferences in Bethel. Seven different programs on the general theme of human resource development are being held this week at the NTL Conference Center, Gould Academy, and the Bethel Inn. In the Monday afternoon orientation session in Bingham Gym, the group was welcomed not only by NTL Executive Director Joseph Potts, but also by Melody Bonnera on behalf of both the town of Bethel and the NTL/Bethel Liaison Committee. Alvin Barth added a few words of welcome from Gould Academy.

This week also inaugurates a new season of NTL's Sunrise Seminars. These are informal 45-minute presentations by staff members, who are a changing group each week. The seminars are open to members of the Bethel community at no charge, and are held in the Maine Room of the annex behind the NTL Conference Center. The starting time is 7:30 a.m., and the seminars are offered on Tuesday through Saturday of each week. Earlier this week presentations were made by Frederick Miller, Kaleel Jamison, and Elsie Cross. The seminars for the remainder of this week include the following: Thursday, June 27, Dale Hill—"Managing Your Romantic Love Life"; Friday, June 28, Larry Richard—"O.D., Lawyers, and the Professional Service Firm"; and Saturday, June 29, Michael Broom—"Mythological/Anthropological Correlations of Racism and Sexism."

The topics for each week's seminars are being regularly posted in a number of locations around Bethel, West Bethel, and Locke Mills. Throughout the eight-week season the list of topics will be posted on Tuesdays, but persons who wish to know the topic for Tuesday may

Greenwood facing $2,000 increase in insurance premiums

The Town of Greenwood is facing increased insurance costs on town buildings and town vehicles. The town's insurance agent, Eugene Davis, of Western Maine Associates, in Rumford, informed the Board of Selectmen Tuesday night that the premiums on the town's buildings would be going up $1,000, to $3,225, and the premiums on the town's 10 vehicles would be going up $1,100, to $4,857.

In an effort to trim the increases, the selectmen decided to raise the deductible on the collision coverage for the vehicles, from the current $250 to $1,000. This will permit a savings of $419. Mr.

Woodstock says 'no' to plowing Route 232

The Woodstock Board of Selectmen, Tuesday night, rejected a proposal by the Maine Department of Transportation that the town provide winter maintenance on Route 232.

The state's proposal was that Woodstock would receive between $2,250 and $2,500 per mile for doing the winter work on the road. It had been established some time ago that winter maintenance on Route 232 was the responsibility of the state.

In a letter to the DOT the Woodstock board said the decision was based in part on the hassle concerning maintenance of highways in past years, and also that the Woodstock road crew has sufficient

Madison on religious liberty

[Early this month, the U.S. Supreme Court decided that a "moment of silent meditation," when intended to encourage or further prayer in public schools, was a violation of the First Amendment, as applied to the states through the Fourteenth Amendment. When the First Amendment was written, an "establishment" of religion meant a state-supported church: Congress was prohibited either from establishing a national church or from interfering with state establishments where they existed. (Massachusetts was the last state to drop its established religion in 1833.) But what is the meaning of religious freedom today?

The following remarks are taken from James Madison's "Memorial and Remonstrance Against Religious Assessments," which first circulated in Virginia in June of 1785. The Virginia Legislature had proposed a tax to support "teachers of the Christian religion," and Madison and others argued that the tax violated the principle of religious freedom. The "Memorial and Remonstrance" presents a convincing case for the principle of religious freedom. It certainly persuaded the Virginia legislature, which responded by passing the Virginia Statute of Religious Freedom in 1786.]

We hold it for a fundamental and undeniable truth, "that Religion or the duty which we owe to our Creator and the Manner of discharging it, can be directed only by reason and conviction, not by force or violence" (Article 16 of the Virginia Declaration of Rights). The Religion then of every man must be left to the conviction and conscience of every man. It is the right of every man to exercise it as these may dictate. This right is in its nature an unalienable right. It is unalienable because of the opinions of men, depending only on the evidence contemplated by their own minds, cannot follow the dictates of other men. It is unalienable also, because what is here a right towards men, is a duty towards the Creator.

It is the duty of every man to render to the Creator such homage, and such only, as he believes to be acceptable to him. This duty is precedent both in order and time and degree of obligation, to the claims of civil society.

Before any man can be contemplated as a member of civil society, he must be considered as a subject of the Governor of the Universe. And if a member of civil society, who enters into any subordinate Association must always do it with a reservation of this duty to the general authority; much more must every man who becomes a member of any particular civil society do it with a saving of his allegiance to the Universal Sovereign.

We maintain therefore that in matters of Religion, no man's right is abridged by the institution of a civil society, and that Religion is wholly exempt from its cognizance. True it is, that no other rule exists, by which any question may divide a society, can be ultimately determined, but the will of the majority. But it is also true, that the majority may trespass on the rights of the minority.

If religion be exempt from the authority of the society at large, still less can it be subject to that of the legislative body.

The preservation of a free government requires not merely that the metes and bounds which separate each department of power may be invariably maintained; but more especially, that neither of them be suffered to overleap the great Barrier which defends the rights of the people.

Who does not see that the same authority which can establish Christianity, in exclusion of all other Religions, may establish with the same ease any particular sect of Christians, in exclusion of all other Sects? That same authority which can force a citizen to contribute three pence only of his property for the support of any one establishment, may force him to conform to any other establishment in all cases whatsoever?

Whilst we assert for ourselves a freedom to embrace, to profess and to observe the Religion, which we believe to be of divine origin, we cannot deny an equal freedom to those whose minds have not yet yielded to the evidence which has convinced us. If this freedom be abused, it is an offense against God, not against man. To God, therefore, not to men, must an account of it be rendered.

Experience witnesseth that ecclesiastical establishments, instead of maintaining the purity and efficacy of Religion, have had a contrary operation.

Rulers who wished to subvert the public liberty, may have found an established clergy convenient auxiliaries. A just government, instituted to secure and perpetuate it, needs them not. Such a government will be best supported by protecting every citizen in the enjoyment of his Religion with the same equal hand which protects his person and his property; by neither invading the equal rights of any Sect, nor suffering any Sect to invade those of another.

The policy of the bill is adverse to the diffusion of the light of Christianity. The first wish of those who enjoy this precious gift, ought to be that it may be imparted to the whole race of mankind. Instead of levelling as far as possible to the victorious progress of truth, the bill with an ignoble and unchristian and timidity would circumscribe it with a wall of defence, against the encroachments of error.

Finally, "the equal right of every citizen to the free exercise of his Religion according to the dictates of conscience" is held by the same tenure as all our other rights. We the subscribers say, that the General Assembly of this Commonwealth have no such authority. And that no effort may be omitted on our part against so dangerous an usurpation, we oppose to it, this remonstrance; earnestly praying, as we are in duty bound, that the Supreme Lawgiver of the Universe, by illuminating those to whom it is addressed, may on the other hand, turn the councils from every act which would affront his holy prerogative, or violate the trust committed to them; and on the other, guide them into every measure which may be worthy of his blessing, may redound to their own praise, and may establish more firmly the liberties, the prosperity, and the Happiness of the Commonwealth.

Fireworks returning to Bethel on Mollycockett Day

For the first time in several years, a complete fireworks show will cap off the annual Mollycockett Day festivities in Bethel, to be held Saturday, July 20.

The fireworks display, sponsored by the Bethel Inn and Sunday River Ski Area, will consist of over 100 aerial shells and a spectacular final barrage.

The day will be filled with events like the woodmen contest and chicken barbecue sponsored by the Bethel Rotary Club and the annual parade and fiddlers' contest sponsored by the Bethel Lions Club. The Bethel Area Health Center will host the frog jumping contest and the Bethel Outing Club will host the foot races. As in the past, local organizations will set up food and crafts booths on the Village Common.

Immediately following the day's events at 9 p.m., the fireworks will start on the Bethel Inn golf course, behind the main Inn building. There will be no admission charge, but spectators will be asked to remain in designated areas and avoid the tee and green areas.

Les Otten, Sunday River president, said, "We are pleased to be able to co-sponsor this event as part of the Mollycockett Day festivities. It is another clear sign that the Bethel area is becoming one of New England's finest year-round resort areas."

Dick Raser, Bethel Inn owner, said, "This is one way for those of us involved in tourism to thank the town of Bethel residents for their support of our activities."

GOULD SUMMER SCHOOL OPENED JUNE 24

On Monday, June 24, Gould Academy opened its fourth summer session with 34 students representing eight different states and five foreign countries. Under the direction of Dr. Harry "Dutch" Dresser, Gould's assistant headmaster, and 10 faculty members the students will be challenged for the next six weeks. Designed as an enrichment experience, most students see the summer school as an opportunity to advance. That is to take a course now that will allow them to take an advanced course in the fall. Thus a student could take a year's course of algebra II in six weeks that will enable them to start calculus in the fall.

Dr. Dresser stated that this summer's school differs from those in the past in two ways. First the numbers are smaller and second there are fewer Maine students in attendance. One of the reasons for fewer Maine students is the fact that there are many low cost or free programs for gifted students already being offered. Bowdoin College, the University of Maine, the Bryant Pond Conservation Camp, and the Deer Isle Art School are only some of these programs available for high achieving students.

This year's students come from Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, New York, Florida and California, and from Spain, Japan, Venezuela, France and the Canary Islands. They have enrolled in 13 different courses including two "total immersion" courses, Chemistry and English as a Foreign Language (ESL) or in a major and minor course. The major courses include Exposition and Analysis (English); Writing; Humanities, Pascal (Computers); Algebra II; Studio Art; and Geometry and they meet for two hours per hour and include Basic Programming, Black and White Photography and an English course "Which way are we going." Average enrollment in a class is two to four students and the pace of learning, is needless to say, very rapid. This is in no way a remedial summer school for those who failed a course and to repeat so they won't fall behind.

In addition to three hours of class each day, there are three hours of supervised study and extra help. A two hour and 15 minute activity period which includes swimming trips, climbing a mountain once a week, softball, volleyball, and other games round out a very full day. Classes meet six times a week with weekend trips also planned.

Anyone coming on the Gould campus for the next weeks certainly will find that academics continue to be stressed along with a lot of fun.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Maine has a political heritage we often tend to forget, but as historians we should study it with pride. Hannibal Hamlin, born not far from us, was, of course, Lincoln's (first) vice president. James G. Blaine was a candidate for the presidency. "Czar" Reed was the most famous speaker the House of Representatives has known. William Pitt Fessenden was one of the country's most respected politicians. The Washburn family was a political dynasty. Woodstock's own Sidney Perham was a governor of Maine. Margaret Chase Smith was the First Lady of Politics for many years. Edmund Muskie was a governor, senator, and secretary of state, as well as a candidate for vice president in 1968. And many of Maine's contemporary politicians are highly regarded in Washington and around the world.

The roll call is long and distinguished. If you have not read the biographies of some of our politicians, please do so. They are a proud legacy from the past.

Remember that the Woodstock Museum's hours are from 1 to 4 p.m. every Saturday. Come and browse through the Society's collections.

Upcoming on the society's calendar will be a variety show in cooperation with the grange. The society is delighted to be able to work with this organization on a joint venture.

The next meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society will feature information on the Knights of Pythias and some, Bryant Pond history.

Summer band program

Harry Davis, Telstar Band Director, has announced the beginning of a two-part summer band program at Telstar Regional High School.

Part One is a program of private and group instruction for beginners or intermediate players. It includes the free use of a fine quality band instrument for the summer. If the student wishes to continue instruction in the fall they may rent an instrument at that time. A very nominal fee will afford each student a choice of one-half hour lesson per week or two one-hour lessons per week. Some students have already begun their lessons this week, but the main thrust of the program will begin the week after the July 4th holiday, and will continue until school re-opens.

Part Two of the program is a two-hour rehearsal every Tuesday night in the Telstar Band Room at 7 o'clock. All musicians are invited to take part in this group. Several adults, some high school students and middle school students and even some folks from South Paris and Rumford have indicated a desire to join in. The group has been invited to play for Mollycockett Day and would also like to perform some old-fashioned summer band concerts if participation is large enough.

For more details about any aspect of either program please call Mr. Davis at 824-3164 in the evening.

HEALTH CENTER ISSUES CHALLENGES FOR MOLLYCOCKETT DAY EVENTS

The time of year has come again when floats will be cruising down Main Street again on Mollycockett Day.

Last year the Bethel Area Health Center bowed to the winners but once again they are issuing challenges to Gould Academy as to who will have the better float on Saturday, July 20.

The Health Center has also challenged the BEARS and TTAERS to a "nurses' race" down Broad Street. More information will be forthcoming and the Health Center will let everyone know if their challenges have been accepted.

This year the Center will hold their third annual frog jumping contest so Dads and Moms don't forget to go frog hunting on Friday, the day before Mollycockett Day, and enter your child in the contest. Songo Pond is the favorite hunting ground for big healthy frogs.

In addition to the above the Center will be having an ice cream smorgasbord, a volleyball tournament and a booth with biofeedback machines. Watch this paper for further details and let us get involved in this community effort.

HEALTH CENTER

Fund, a committee of the American Legion and the Bethel Health Center.

The two organizations merged in August 1986 as the Bethel Health and Service Council. The by-laws of the new organization indicated a shift in objectives from being purely an emergency fund to the broader goal of assisting "whenever necessary, any type of health, service and safety program in the township of Bethel and such bordering towns as are deemed to be in need."

As early as 1982 interest was expressed by numerous townspeople in attracting a doctor to the area. There were a number of efforts made and many disappointments resulted. Therefore in March of 1978 the Bethel Health and Service Council was reorganized and its name changed to the Northern Oxford Health and Service Council to incorporate a larger geographical area. The goal of establishing a community health center was accepted by the newly-elected board of trustees.

After a year of volunteer effort to find adequate space, recruit a physician and secure funds, the Health Center doors opened on Jan. 2, 1979 with part-time coverage by a doctor, a nurse practitioner and a receptionist/bookkeeper. By the fall of 1979 the Center had full-time physician coverage along with sufficient staff to be open 48 hours a week and to provide for 24-hour emergency care.

Services that are provided now include acute or ongoing health care, such as diagnosis and treatment of illnesses common lab tests, management of chronic health problems and minor orthopedic care. Preventive care is also available in the form of programs such as family planning, patient education, screening tests and physical examinations. The Center also has contracted services such as substance abuse and mental health counselling, podiatry and audiology available on designated days.

HIGGINS TO ATTEND PRINCIPAL'S ACADEMY

Carroll Higgins, assistant principal of Telstar Regional High School has been selected to attend the Maine Principal's Academy at the University of Maine at Farmington this summer. The Academy's program will focus on the leadership and management tasks of principals, providing exposure to and training in areas such as staff goal-setting, team decision-making, and school improvement strategies. Mr. Higgins will spend half his time intensively preparing in the program development realm.

The Academy meets from July 9 through July 17. Participants will return to their schools in the fall with a plan for improvement in some area of the school's work. Three days in December cap off the Academy experience for the principals as they meet for further training and to assess progress to date on their plans. Mr. Higgins joins 23 other principals from all parts of the state at this year's Academy.

The Academy, now in its sixth year, is one of the first attempts nationwide to improve local leadership in the schools. Since 1979, 134 school principals have been involved in Academy activities, forming a nucleus of school leaders sharing practices and meeting for new training. The Maine Principal's Academy jointly sponsored and funded by the Maine Elementary Principal's Association, Maine Secondary Principal's Association, University of Maine, and Department of Educational and Cultural Services. Led by principals, it has attracted national attention from groups interested in promoting excellence among school leaders.

LOCAL RESIDENT TO PARTICIPATE IN NATIONAL JIGSAW CHAMPIONSHIPS

A Bethel resident is putting his speed, dexterity and patience on the line by pitting himself against the champions during the 1985 Hallmark National Jigsaw Championships in Athens, Ohio, Aug. 17-18.

George A. Gibson, Rte. 2, Bethel, is hoping to snap his puzzle pieces into place faster than any other contestants during this annual exercise in puzzle mania. Winners will bring home a "piece of the action" in the form of cash prizes totalling nearly $8,000 plus puzzles and memorabilia.

Contestants may enter as singles competitors or in doubles teams. Entry forms are available from participating Hallmark Card Stores or by writing the Dairy Barn, P.O. Box 747, Athens, Ohio 45701. Deadline for entry is Aug. 2.

Sponsored by the Dairy Barn Southeastern Ohio Cultural Arts Center, Inc., the fourth annual competition is expected to draw up to 800 competitors.

Contestants will use brand-new Springbook Puzzles, manufactured by Hallmark. Designs and die-cuts will remain a guarded secret until the championships begin.

A display of nearly 100 puzzle designs by amateurs and leading artists and photographers will be exhibited during the championships. Antique jigsaw puzzles dating from the 18th century will also be on display.

Rotary Club notes

The Bethel Rotary Club held a luncheon meeting at the Sudbury Inn on Tuesday, June 25.

This special meeting was planned to honor the club's newest Paul Harris Fellow, Dick Verville, and to conduct the installation of officers for the Rotary year 1985-86. Rotary-Ann's and guests were invited to participate in the ceremonies. It was a great meeting indeed.

President Jim Monahan briefly talked about the conference in Quebec City (June 20-24). The Bethel club was presented with an award for being the club indicating the largest percentage of new members in 1984-85. A New Club Sponsor Award was also given to Secretary John Head for his outstanding service in connection with the Bethel club's sponsorship of the Oxford Hills Rotary Club (1983-84).

The meeting continued on with the presentation of the Paul Harris Fellow Award to Dick Verville. After the reading of the letter from Rotary International Ed Quinn was asked to make the presentation of the award. Ed's flamboyant style made the presentation highly enjoyable. Dick is most deserving of this award, and all congratulate him.

The installation of officers was presided over by Governor-Designate Joseph Hahn of Bath. The officers of the Bethel club for 1985-86 were inducted at this time. The officers are: Lennie Shaw, president; Les Otten, president-elect; Dave Preble, vice president; John Head, secretary; Dave Denison, assistant secretary; and Dave Preble, treasurer. The Directors of the Four Avenues of Service are: Bill Clough, John Elliot, Rick Whitney and George Noll.

Sgt.-at-Arms Ed Quinn introduced visiting Rotarians and guests joining with the group for these special events. Rotarians were: Bill Lowther, Boonton, N.J.; Gil Robinson, Wilmington, Del., and Richard Parker, Laguna Beach, Calif. Guests were: Don Eddy, guest of George Noll; Bob and Sue Crane, and Bob, Linda, Erica, and Mark Verville, guest of Ed Quinn.

Historical Society launches 1985 endowment drive

Howard W. Cole of Bethel, chairman of the 1985 Endowment Campaign Committee, has announced that the Bethel Historical Society will attempt to raise $7,500 for the Society's endowment before Jan. 1, 1986. Mr. Cole, retired president of W.J. Wheeler and Co., South Paris, has successfully directed the Society's two previous annual campaigns which have raised nearly $14,000 from several businesses and individuals.

A life member of the Society since 1975, Mr. Cole was born in South Paris, graduated from Needham (Mass.) High School, Hebron Academy and Colgate University. He was associated with W.J. Wheeler for 30 years, retiring in 1982.

Mr. Cole's civic activities include a trusteeship of the Maine Savings Bank, membership in the South Paris Kiwanis Club, the Masons and Shrine and service as a deacon of the West Parish Congregational Church, Bethel. He is a former president of the board of trustees of Stephens Memorial Hospital where he was involved in several fund-raising campaigns. He and his wife Virginia, also a life member of the Society, live on Clark Street, Bethel, and are the parents of two children.

Assisting Mr. Cole in this fund raising effort will be Society members John B. Head of the Investment Committee, Barbara D. Brown of the Membership Committee, Alden T. Kennett, Society president, and E. Louise Lincoln, Society bookkeeper and assistant treasurer. Already interest accrued from this fund has begun to finance a small portion of the staffing needs of the Society and it is anticipated this will increase if the endowment can be enlarged each year, to provide additional staffing and address the increasingly critical space needs of the organization. Contributions are being solicited from all members and friends of the Society in any amount and are tax deductible.

The Bethel Historical Society, currently with over 600 members, was founded in 1966 and incorporated in 1971 as a non-profit tax exempt organization. Currently Oxford County's only full-time historical agency, the Society collects materials relating to western Maine and the White Mountains. Its operations are housed in the Dr. Moses Mason House (1813) and include a full range of programs and activities, including monthly meetings, school programs, exhibits, heritage festivals, publications, and a quarterly newsletter.

Westies secure hold on 1st place

The West Paris Westies charged into sole possession of first place in the Pine Tree League with three impressive wins during the past week. Last Wednesday they beat Rumford, 4-1, on the strength of Nat Harris' two-hitter. Sunday they demolished Auburn, 22-5, before an appreciative home-field audience, with pitcher Bob Seames fanning 11. And last night (Tuesday), they edged Turner, 3-1.

In the Rumford game, Harris gave up a homerun in the first inning, but then didn't allow another hit until the sixth. Peter Blake and Rick Wing provided the firepower with homeruns for West Paris. For Blake, it was his fifth of the year, while Wing picked up his first. Mark Thurlow and Wing were the only repeat hitters.

In the 17-hit circus against Auburn, the Westies scored 10 runs in the third inning alone. Four walks, five singles and a three-run homer by Levi Brown accounted for those runs.

Bob Seames took over the pitching duties from Alan Snow in the second, with the Westies trailing. Seames then proceeded to get 11 of the final 17 outs via the strikeout.

John Ladd and Nat Harris hit solo roundtrippers, while Blake and Brown hit two apiece. For Blake it was his sixth and seventh homers of the season.

West Paris 3, Turner 1

Levi Brown pitched a two-hitter Tuesday night as the Westies outlasted Turner, 3-1, there. Brown collected 10 strikeouts as he went the distance.

The game was tied at 0-0 until the top of the fifth inning, when the Westies got one run across on a walk with the bases loaded.

But Turner came right back in the bottom of the inning to tie things up at 1-1. West Paris went ahead again in the top of the 6th, with Mark Thurlow belting a line drive homer over the left field fence with no men on base.

An insurance run was added on a fielder's choice.

The victory gave the Westies an even tighter grip on first place, with a 7-2 record.

responsibility in caring for the town's own roads.

It also was pointed out by the selectmen that Woodstock has received only about $100 per mile for the past 40 years for winter maintenance on Route 232, a great portion of which is extremely hilly, requiring raw salt at $35 per ton to render it safe for traffic during hazardous winter conditions.

The Woodstock selectmen postponed the setting of a date for a special town meeting concerning the Greenwood stump dump. The delay is occasioned because an interlocal agreement between Greenwood and Woodstock governing cooperative use of the stump dump has not as yet been formulated. It will be necessary for Woodstock citizens to vote on such an agreement. Funds were raised for such use some time ago but an agreement has yet to be voted on.

It is also hoped that a stump dump site can be secured within the town of Woodstock, but as yet no landowner has come forward.

Work on covering the old dump continues, and the selectmen are awaiting bids on a suitable covering soil. It is believed that a local source of covering material has been found that should meet DEP requirements. Thirty-seven percent fine clay has been found on a Rowe Hill farm, ending a long quest for a local source.

GREENWOOD INSURANCE

Davis had suggested they consider doing away with collision insurance on all vehicles over five years old, but they deferred taking that step for the time being.

Sun is shining here in Lewiston but not as much as I wish. It seems cool, but good.

Last night we all went to Mt. Ararat High School for the adult education graduation. It is good to see people getting their diplomas, even after several years of being out of school. I went to adult ed at one time, though I didn't get my diploma. It was fun to take courses that I hadn't taken in high school. I didn't get a job from going but tried and it was a pleasure to go and socialize with the others who were taking the same courses I did. I felt real good when I came out with an A average in accounting. Guess trouble was getting into my hands at that time as I couldn't write shorthand as fast as I could think it and didn't do as good as I had wished. However, I enjoyed it all and was glad at the time to see so many going back to school to get their education. It is something that can't be taken away from you, even if you don't get a chance to use it all. Hope a lot of folks keep going and making a better life for themselves. We wouldn't have gone if my daughter hadn't been teaching there this past two years and had certificates to pass out to the ones who took the clerical courses she taught. I always wished I could be a teacher and my dreams have been fulfilled by seeing Wynona get to do what I had wanted to do and couldn't. It makes me proud to see her accomplishments and I am sure she will continue to be a good teacher or director, if that was what she wanted to do. She is interested in helping others learn and that is a great requirement for a teacher.

Don't know all that is going on on High Street but will after tomorrow as I am going home. I shouldn't say that I will know everything as I don't get news from my neighbors as I wish, but will see what Russell is doing and others, too.

Peggy was home again last weekend and Peggy, Russell, Lawrence and Grace went to a cookout as Peggy's daughter and husband's camp. I went and so did Wynona and children for awhile. Pam and Cam Taylor from Bethel were there with their two children; Myrna's daughter Lorna was there with her boy friend; also Loreta, Emerson and Jim Merrill from West Bethel. Kaye and Otto Blosser from Florida were there as they had been visiting with Myrna and Whitey while on vacation. Everyone had a good time and Whitey's chicken was a big hit as well as Myrna's garlic bread. As usual, no one had to go away hungry. The family is well-known for providing plenty to eat at a gathering and it is always good.

Russell had said that Myrna, Whitey, Kaye and Otto had been up to visit one day and had stopped at some yard sales on the way. Kaye and Otto enjoy looking for antiques and have many displayed in their home in Florida. I can't blame them as I like the antiques too, but don't have the money to collect them. I learned a lot about them when I worked in the Maine Cottage store, years ago. It was quite an experience and one that I enjoyed very much.

I have been helping Nonie with housework and baby sitting with my granddaughters and will miss them all when I go home, but it is time to get back and do some work there. I have had to have lots of work done on my car while here and am thankful that I found a good place to take it. The fellows working at this garage are good mechanics and didn't take advantage of me. However, it has cost me plenty and it is not so nice when one is on a fixed income. It also makes it difficult when you know you have to have it to go to the doctor's every week. It seems one can't get ahead no matter how they try, or at least, I can't.

Have done a little sewing for the children while here but most of it was for Courtney as she is the oldest and needs shorts and sun dresses. I have made her three dresses and one for the baby. Have more that needs doing, but just haven't been able to do it all as the weather has bothered me a lot and kept me from doing all that I had planned. Have to take it one day at a time and do what I can.

Heard that Josephine Tripp is in the hospital and hope she is gaining well and will do so as time goes by. I wish her well.

As I have said, I will be going home tomorrow and will call this enough for this week. Will be back and try to write about what is going on nearer home.

MILLS REPORTS WOOD MEASUREMENT BILL PASSES

State Representative Jeff Mills (D-Bethel), a sponsor of a bill to reform the Wood Measurement Act passed in the last session of the Maine legislature, stated last week the reform bill had passed both the House and the Senate and was awaiting the signature of Governor Brennan. Mills said that the changes included in the current bill go a long way toward remedying the defects in the original legislation, and will be a help to those in western Maine involved in the wood industry. He was hopeful that the governor would sign the bill.

Additional sponsors of the wood measurement bill included Senator Donald Twitchell (D-Norway). Rep. Mills stated that he was pleased to have been able to sponsor this bill and will attempt to seek further improvements in the legislation in the next session.

So. Woodstock

By OLIVE DAVIS

Bruce Galen Clements, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Clements, received his bachelor of science degree in computer science at the 179th commencement of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y., on May 17.

A birthday supper was tendered Alicia Miclon by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miclon, on Wednesday evening, June 12. A turkey dinner with all the fixings with ice cream and cake for dessert was served to the following guests: Arthur Boisvert; James Record and children, Cheri and Jamie; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miclon and family, Patti, Dany, Noreen and Mike; Kim Bartlett; Andrew and Leslie Cummings. Alicia received gifts which she opened. Her parents got an outdoor swing which her father put together the night before while Alicia was staying with her grandparents, so it was a real surprise and treat even if it was rainy that evening.

Tuesday the Willing Workers met at the church to discuss the work to be done on the building. All bids were not in so not much was accomplished.

Jim Miclon is on a weeks vacation. He spent the week up-country fishing with friends.

We are proud to learn that Alan Verrill, the son of Leon and Marguerite Verrill, was the valedictorian of his class this year. His message to students was "set a goal for yourself and see that goal high." I believe that is what he did by the awards he received, namely: principal's award; medical technician; April student of the month with special recognition; Birchmere scholarship; Rumford Community Hospital scholarship; outstanding achievement in drama, English and social studies; special award summa cum laude; science award; outstanding achievement in chemistry; excellence in advanced biology; Todd Memorial scholarship and Eva Bean award. He also received his letter for baseball. Alan plans to attend Atlantic Union College in Massachusetts and will take the medical technician course. He also has received the Chamber of Commerce student award.

Theresa Wilbur also graduated from Telstar. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilbur. She received Todd scholarship and Rumford Community Hospital scholarship, and the Chamber of Commerce student award. She plans to attend Southern Maine Technical Institute in the fall and will major in radiation therapy.

Amie Sue Otero Otero was outstanding in girls' track and field and won fifth place in the 4x100 meter relay race with a time of 53.8. She is the daughter of Felix and Sheila Otero Otero and will enroll in business administration at Westbrook College in Portland.

Stacy Wilbur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilbur received a Spanish award. Mike Verrill was recognized for physical exercises. They are both underclassmen at Telstar Regional High School.

We have a fourth grade student in our midst who had outstanding honors. Devin Benson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Benson, received three books from his teacher as an outstanding student, award of merit for mastering multiplication and division facts, outstanding classroom attitude, outstanding fourth grade student, the second ribbon for the science fair on earth and space, and outstanding in creative writing ability.

Jennie Felt finished the sixth grade and will be going to Telstar next fall. She had some awards of achievements but due to the fact I couldn't get in touch, I'll have to omit hers. I did see her picture with Principal David Murphy as she received a plaque for the most consecutive days of school attendance (883 days). Jennie also received a letter from President Reagan, with a pin enclosed, for six years with an average of B in her school work.

We are proud of these young folks in our neighborhood and wish them well in the future. Keep up the good work and keep going in the right direction. Bless you all.

Congratulations, Bob Coolidge, on your receiving the Chamber of Commerce business award. There never was a kinder fellow to do business with, I assure you.

The road by Andrews funeral home is being put in order, ready for tarring soon.

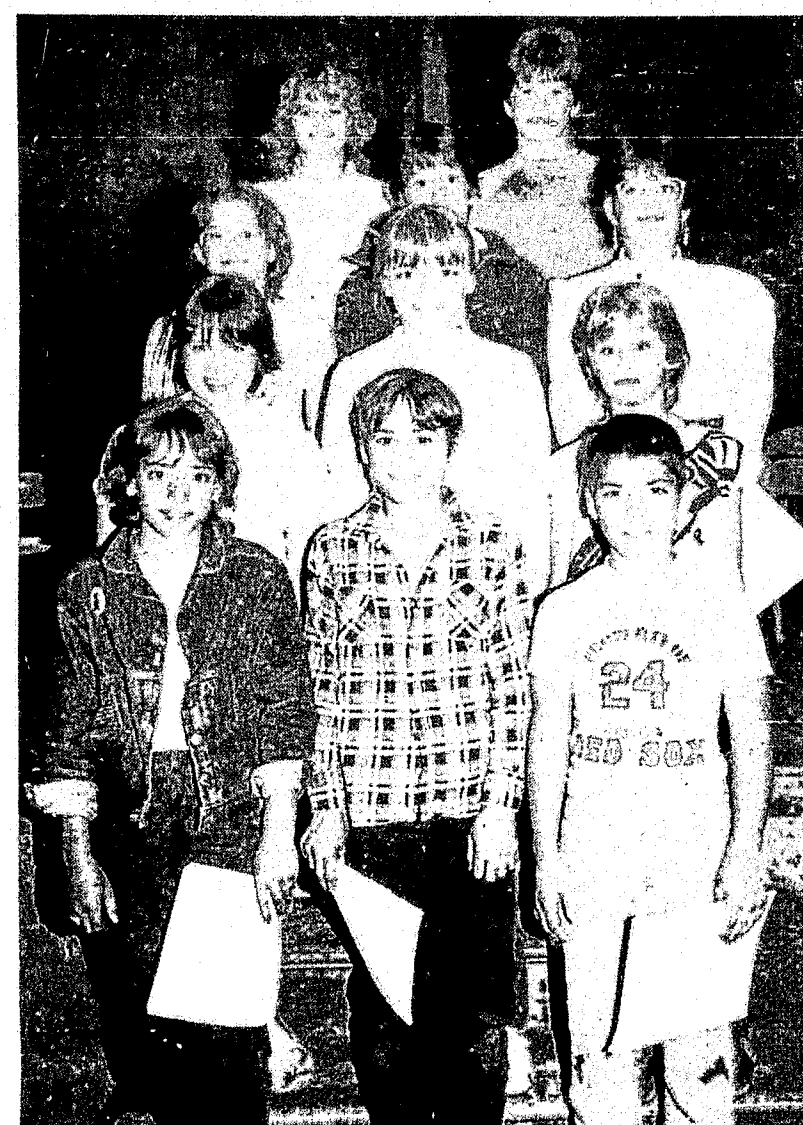

Schools have closed for the summer vacation.

Our tame deer has been seen several times, having the run of the place. It seems good to have a little wild life around. I hope everyone will enjoy her and see that she is protected at all times. Don't drive too fast. Our moose was killed by a car last week. This one had been hanging around in my lower field, but no more.

animal roams in Ethel Davis' field. It has a long tail. It could have been a cat of the common kind, I don't know who reported it, but they may have been seeing double, you know.

Tuesday was a big day for the Class of '21, Bridgton Academy graduates. Ten of us met at Bean's Restaurant for a dinner and social hour with guests included. The 21ers were Helen Chute, Harrison; Gladys Knight, North Waterford; Elizabeth Saunders Young, Long Branch, N.J., who is at her cottage on Lake Christopher, Bryant Pond; Orpha Davis, Harrison; Julia Morse, who is at her camp in Waterford now, but resides in Brunswick during the winter; Olive P. Davis, West Paris. Guests were Katharine Rolfe of Bridgton, who was one of our teachers at Bridgton Academy; Miriam Sylvester Monroe, who is at her camp on the pond, South Waterford; and Inez Matheson Barker, East Stoneham; and Katherine S. Saunders, Mt. Holly, N.J. These, also, were graduates from Bridgton, but in different classes. We enjoyed our get-together, but missed Rose, Martha, Mary and Lida who were unable to be with us. We appreciated the service received during this restaurant.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Roy I. Cummings wishes to extend their appreciation to friends, neighbors and relatives for their support during their recent loss.

Special thank you to the Ledgeview Memorial Home, Dr. Nangle, Greenleaf Funeral Home, Masonic Lodge #97, American Legion Post #81, Mt. Abram Lodge #31, friends and neighbors.

'ART AS A LIVING' IS RECIPIENT OF INNOVATIVE EDUCATIONAL GRANT

"Art As a Living," a school-based project at Telstar Middle/Regional High School, has been announced as the recipient of an innovative educational grant from the state of Maine for the 1985-86 school year. Superintendent of Schools Dewaine Craig was notified of the award on June 10 by Education Commissioner Robert Boose, and received further word early last week that the project will be funded in the amount of $11,300 with the state share being $8,100 and the local in-kind match being $3,200. The innovative educational grants are the result of the 1984 Education Reform Act and are designed to encourage creative responses to identified educational needs. "Art As a Living" was one of only 44 projects selected in the recent cycle of funding out of 107 applications.

The "Art As a Living" project will bring a series of local artisans and craftspeople into classes at Telstar during the 1985-86 school year to demonstrate the skills which contribute all or part of their livelihood. The program, designed by Telstar faculty members David Tripp and Tim Kavanagh, and Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell, will promote an awareness and an appreciation of local talents on the part of students, foster closer school-community ties, and expand the scope of existing art and graphic arts classes. Visiting artists will be included throughout the year, and there will be a residency program during Career Week in April. The project will conclude in May with a major exhibit of the work of visiting artists and of students involved in the program. The grant will make possible the purchase of needed supplies and equipment.

The "Art As a Living" planning team was composed of Mr. Tripp, Mr. Kavanagh, and Mrs. Newell, with assistance from Telstar Principal Ted Davis, Superintendent Craig, Dr. Stanley Howe of the SAD #44 Board of Directors, and State Representative Jeff Mills. Mrs. Newell was the author of the grant application.

First day of summer and also the longest. So many of the flowers have burst into blossoms the last two weeks. Daisies, bridle wreath, irises, peonies, my favorite roses and the mums he put in this year are just beautiful as well as many others too numerous to mention. Mama Robin has hatched out her babies but am not sure how many but can see little heads peering over the edge of their nest.

Joyce Stearns saw a mother moose and her two babies coming home the other night.

Wilfred came home Friday to move his belongings to his apartment on Winter Street in Norway. Frankie and Teresa came Friday and spent the night. Ira came home Saturday and Sunday Ira, George, Frankie and Teresa went for a ride to Fryeburg where I understand they went up Hurricane Mountain, went to Conway, had dinner, and came back through the Notch. This left Frank to sleep as the day was lowery and not too good to work outdoors.

The 18th Frankie came and he and I rode to my folks in South Paris. My sister, Marion Tucker, Readfield, was there so we had a good visit. Mom took me into Norway to do some shopping. Ernest and Alberta Angevine came the 19th to look at the movies we had taken when we had gone to Newfoundland. Hope it comes so we can go again someday.

After Richard's graduation Pat and Richard had a get-together at their home. Those attending were: Nancy Howard, Roberta and David Hunt; Robert Saunders, Marlboro, Mass.; Eleanor Morton, Newry; Peter Morton, Portland; Jack Morton and Chris; Kenneth Saunders, Gorham, N.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Saunders and son, Michael, New York. Richard went back with his father, Everett Saunders and family, to work with his father in his business.

Dick, Sue, Kristy and Tim Angevine, had an after graduation get-together at their home. Attending were Kristy's grandparents, Ernest and Alberta Angevine, Kristy's great-aunt Lucy Robbins, and Lucy's granddaughter, Lori McKinney, and Dick and Mary Ellen McInnis of Rumford.

Judy Coolidge and her second grade class went to Rumford Animal Farm, the last week of school.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Taylor left Friday evening to go to Laconia, N.H., for the motorcycle get-together, motorcycle racing at Loudon, N.H., and a swap meet at Weir's Beach. They came back Sunday.

Homer Smith and Edie had for dinner Father's Day, Doug, Adam, Bruce, Andy and Dennis Smith and Lisa Dooen. Kerry Smith telephoned from Newburyport, Mass. Christine Smith Bacheider called in the morning from Conyers, Ga., and her husband Donny called later in the day.

Frank and Sylvia Benson had their daughter and granddaughter, Sharon and Chantel Kimball, come Wednesday morning. Sylvia Gardner and a friend from Sabattus, came Sunday. Brad Benson, Poland, stopped in Sunday and Monday. Frank Benson, Jr., Augusta, called Father's Day.

Ernest and Avery Angevine and Jim's Knights went on a fishing trip to northern Maine for a few days. They visited the Lumbermen's Museum at Patten. Not too many fish but saw two mother bears and five cubs, one moose, 18 deer, and many rabbits.

Sue Angevine took Alberta to baccalaureate services at Telstar. Friday night, Ernest and Alberta Angevine, Victor, Judy, and family went to watch Kristy graduate.

Betty Blake and Alberta Angevine went to Rumford Point Thursday to see their cousin, Clara Elliott and friend, Claudia Pellase. Friday, Alberta went with the third grade class to North Conway, N.H., where they rode the train to Conway and back. Sarah Coolidge, Dawn Seames and Jennifer Mason, were third graders from our road who went.

Friday evening Eva Dalton and Louis Angevine from North Weymouth, Mass., visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine.

Rev and Mrs. Elwin Angevine spent the day Friday with his sister, Myrtle and Leslie Lapham.

Dr. Leonard Shaw was at an optometrists' meeting in Bar Harbor, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. From Thursday to Sunday, Becky, Jon and Jeni, were in Plattsburgh, N.Y., to visit Becky's twin sister, Rachel. Monday night Peter and Debbie Levy of Santa Barbara, Calif., stayed with the Shaws and left Tuesday.

Ronnie, Pauline and Justin Gilbert came Father's Day to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert's.

All six of Charlie Mason's children visited at different times on Father's Day.

John Laban's uncle, Alden Colvocores and grandson of Virginia are spending time at the Laban farm. Matthew laban has been fishing with the visitors.

Father's Day, Billy, Dan, Shany, Justin and Jody Shimamura had a combined barbecue for Father's Day and Thelma Merrill's 76th birthday. Jolene

Let me live in a house by the side of the road

Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good, and the men who are bad,

As good and as bad as I
I would not sit in the scorners' seat
Or hurl the cynic's ban—

Let me live in a house by the side of the road

And be a friend to man.

The few showers have helped the gardens and plants are growing good. We had beet greens June 21 and they were delicious. One meal the woodchucks didn't get. The front yard has many wild strawberries and the birds gather round and they help themselves to the cultivated berries also. They just have to sample the largest berries, so we will buy a supply for the freezer. Just can't win.

Bethel Health Center

Concerning DPT Immunization

Earlier this year a shortage of DPT/Diphtheria, Tetanus and Pertussis (whooping cough) vaccine was reported in the United States. The Maine Department of Human Services, Bureau of Health, adopted a policy of postponing administration of the DPT doses that are usually given at 18 months and 4-6 years in order to ensure immunization of those at highest risk—children under one year of age.

The Department of Human Services has announced that there are now ample quantities of the vaccine and has asked that any children whose doses were postponed now be given the vaccine.

The Bethel Area Health Center has kept a list of patients' names who were asked to wait until more vaccine became available. The Center will be sending out notices to those patients. For further information please call the Health Center at 824-2193.

By LINDA CARON

Justin Bane of Pittsfield is visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bane.

Mr. and Mrs. Earlon Keniston attended the graduation at Oxford Hills June 6 of April Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Howe, and Sheldon Rice, son of Donald Rice. Both graduates are from Watford.

On June 7, Mr. and Mrs. Earlon Keniston boarded a plane in Portland to fly to Dayton, Ohio. There they attended the graduation of Jennifer Meaux from Centerville High School. Jennifer is the daughter of Carl and Llonna Keniston Meaux. The Kenistons returned home on June 14.

We have the most gorgeous pink peonies in bloom beside our house. It's such a treat to see them each morning. The white blossoms will soon burst as well.

Jaime and I are busily preparing for our yard sale. By the time this column reaches print things will have settled down considerably. And my house, I hope, will be a little less cluttered.

My dad and I went "flea marketing" in Massachusetts over Father's Day weekend and I found an old printer's box that I am restoring. Another few days of scraping, sanding and staining and it should be ready to put back together. If I still have strength left I may tackle John's desk to see what kind of wood is under a couple layers of paint.

Welcome to the NTL folks coming in this week and next.

In the "you should have seen the other guy" department is the further adventures of growing up. Jaime has a black eye. She pulled on the oven door and it came down on her eye, cutting the lid in three places. Jaime also did a job on her nose. Poor little thing looks like she did three rounds with the town bully. All is well though and her personality came through with its usual "Ta-Da!" Now I can push my heart down from my throat to where it belongs. Another traumatic experience passed.

There is a yellow ribbon, albeit invisible, around my column this week. As I write there are still forty hostages . . . and again we must wait.

My prayer is that by the time this column is read, they will be free and safely home. We live in times of danger and uncertainty. The world is filled with violence, hatred and innocent victims. (This week alone 126 are dead and 230 are hurting.)

No one . . . knows who next will suffer from some senseless act of bloodshed. We act before we think . . . and condemn others as they condemn us.

We cry, "It's my right to do what I please." It may be, but our "right" stops when we step on the rights of another.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

The sun gilded the treetops. The air was bracing. The sky was wearing turquoise blue with a design of white feathers placed here and there. Blue jays planed through the dark green branches of the towering maples to the accompaniment of squawks or screams. I was on my way to the pond for a few hours to try my luck at fishing. I rowed out from shore and lifted my fish pole to cast. Bing, it went and I rolled my line in to find one of the eyelets had let go. What a disappointment! How to fix it was my thought. I didn't know but studied it over, worked on it for some time, then I knew that I must go to the house to get some tape to repair it. I did, returned and tried again and all was in working order.

A mother duck and six half grown babies swam from the reeds across from me. When the mother discovered me she hurried her young back into the weeds and guarded them.

Then I flubbed a cast that landed to the right of where I planned. A fish dashed over and grabbed it, as though it had been waiting for just that.

As soon as I set the hook, it shot into the air, then with a splash landed on its side. I tightened the line and rolled in a nice bass.

I drifted for awhile and watched the smartly tailored waxwings, the skimming swallows, and the cotton balls in the sky.

Just beyond the mouth of the Sanborn River a blue heron came hunting and made a perfect landing in the weeds, tall and erect.

The grass and leaves looked so crisp and refreshed, having enjoyed the showers of last night. The turf along the

There is no easy answer. There never is. I do know that "if we are to leave our children a planet on which to live safely, to fulfill the bright promise of their lives, we must resume the journey toward peace." RFK

This week place a yellow ribbon around your heart if you haven't put one around your tree or on your door. And let's be a little kinder to our neighbor. It'll make the world a little brighter. We need a tiny ripple of hope to see us through.

"Each time a man stands up for an ideal, or acts to improve the lot of others, or strikes out against injustice, he sends forth a tiny ripple of hope . . . and crossing each other from a million different centers of energy and daring, those ripples build a current that can sweep down the mightiest walls of oppression and resistance."—Robert Kennedy banks was springy and moist.

The long cool shadows of early morning slowly withdrew, as the sun climbed. I turned and rowed by the river to meet friends coming for lunch at my home.

It had been fun to watch the day arrive here on the pond but now I must meet my appointment. I left it as a reader leaves a treasured volume and is sorry to have it finished, though it had been read many, many times. I left only, as a reader does, when she closes the covers—with hope to open them again and again in the years to come.

On Friday, June 14, I spent the day in Bethel visiting a classmate and friend of many years, Sylvia Luxton. Clyde and I also called on Ernest Mundt.

Our callers have been: Robert Holt and son, Ricky, Windsor; Ann Holt, Bethel; son, Niece, Laurene French, and Terrie French and son of Harlingen, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Betts are in New Orleans, La., this week. John's brother is staying at their home.

At the Hayes Homestead there is plenty of activity as usual. Today, Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Spire and two children of New Hampshire and five friends from Indiana are there for over the coming weekend. Verna Libby and Lenora Waterhouse of Falmouth were there over last weekend. Scott and Wallace Hayes, and Duane Hayes, West Paris, visited; Glenn Hayes of Gray, Ardel and Betty Hayes of Auburn were there on Saturday.

On Father's Day, six of the eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis were home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Inman and children were at "Maplewood" for the weekend.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Wayne Hakala have returned home. Wayne has retired from the U.S. service.

Ann Holt took her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonas Holt, out for dinner on Wednesday, then for a ride through Crawford Notch. This was to celebrate their 43rd wedding anniversary which is June 20.

Ernest Mundt, Bethel, called to see us on June 19.

SKYWATCH

The dark nights of July sparkle with the fireworks of brilliant stars like those of the Summer Triangle that contains Cygnus, Lyra and Aquila. Added to these are the glowing rays of the Milky Way that cross almost directly overhead and the light of one planet, Saturn. Yes, Saturn is the only evening planet this month as the others exercise their "independence."

All planets move independently through their orbits at different speeds so that they arrange themselves in different alignments with our Earth, also moving, and the Sun. Among these various alignments, one of the most interesting is the arrangement that places the planet on the opposite side of the Earth from old Sol, an alignment called opposition.

Consider the Moon as yet another planet in orbit around the Earth. When opposite from the Sun, it rises in the East as the Sun sets and the lunar face we see is fully lit. Hence, the name, Full Moon. This month, a rare circumstance produces two full phases of the Moon.

The period of time called "month" was named after the Moon because it contains one full cycle of the phases measured from New Moon to New Moon. Unfortunately, the solar calendar of seasons that we use to measure our year doesn't contain an even number of lunar cycles. We have had to add one extra day each "month" to keep in step with the seasons, so there are occasional months with two Full Moons, and equally rare months containing two New Moons.

When actual planets orbiting farther from the Sun than our own planet are aligned on the opposite side of the Earth from the Sun, they too are fully lit and they are on the same side of their orbits which brings them as close to Earth as they can ever be. So, observing them is easiest and they appear largest in a telescope during oppositions. Jupiter will be in opposition on Aug. 4 and well situated for telescopic observing.

While in opposition, outer planets also perform an unusual function, reversing the direction that they usually "wander" and appearing to move backwards through the stars. This retrograde (East to West) movement is actually an optical illusion caused by watching a foreground planet against a very distant background starfield from a faster moving object, the Earth.

Saturn began its annual retrograde motion on March 7 and, as you may see if you watch patiently, it will stop and begin its normal Eastward or direct motion on July 26. Keep in mind that the farther planets move slower, so distant Saturn remains within a small area of the sky the whole time. Only careful observation and recording of the nearby stars will reveal the apparently confusing movements that befuddled the ancient astronomers.

Comet Halley is still invisible as it approaches us, but it lies millions of miles distant in the Eastern sky at 4 a.m. this month. A view in that direction on the 13th will show a waning crescent Moon, the Morning Star, Venus, and a Red Giant star in the constellation of Taurus the Bull. If you are not staying up late to glimpse the elusive Scorpion and Sagittarius the Archer, rise early before the Sun for a rendezvous with the love goddess, Venus.

Skywatch is provided through the courtesy of the planetarium staff at the University of Maine, Orono.

How did summer get here so soon? The weatherman hasn't yet been informed of its arrival time.

The area misses the Canadian traffic. Some businesses are hurting.

James River equipment was used to rake and grade a portion of Back Street.

Shevchenko; Agatha Christie: A Biography by Janet Morgan; A Creed for the Third Millennium by Colleen McCullough, and many books for young readers.

FUND RAISING MEETING HELD FOR HEALTH CENTER

A meeting of interested people was held recently to discuss further plans on fund-raising for the Bethel Area Health Center.

Chairperson Carolyn Holden introduced Shirley Powell, executive director of the Health Center. Mr. Powell presented an overview of the family services that are now available at the center. She then presented an outline of what services could be available when the renovation of the new facility is completed.

The meeting then broke up into sub-committee to discuss different phases of the fund-raising campaign.

Mollochett Day, Saturday, July 20, will be the kick-off date. Many special events are planned for that day. Vicki Rackliffe will be in charge of the annual frog-jumping contest and this year many other events are being planned. Watch the papers for further information and join in a day of fun for health.

ATV REGISTRATION PERIOD EXTENDED TO AUG. 31

Fish and Wildlife Commissioner Glenn H. Manuel has stated that all-terrain vehicle registrations due to expire June 30, 1985, will be honored until Aug. 31, 1985. Administrative problems with the registration system required the change.

Manuel said that game wardens will not initiate court action between July 1 and Aug. 31 for not renewing an ATV registration. The Maine State Police has notified all law enforcement agencies to follow a similar course of action.

However, any ATV not registered will still be subject to court action, Manuel said.

The fee for registering ATVs was increased $2 by the Maine Legislature. The new fee is $7.

Manuel encourages all ATV owners to send in renewal forms and fees as soon as possible after receiving the form and not wait until the grace period is nearly over, to avoid delays in receiving the registrations.

Newry native named manager of Grafton Notch State Park

Newry native Mark Wight has been named manager of Grafton Notch State Park, according to Herb Hartman, Director of the Maine Department of Conservation's Bureau of Parks and Recreation.

"I enjoy outdoor work and look forward to managing a park with so many interesting geological features," Mr. Wight said.

Mr. Wight began his park management career as a laborer at Grafton Notch in 1977 following graduation from Telstar Regional High School. He was later promoted to assistant ranger at Grafton. He has also worked at Lily Bay State Park and Squaw Mountain, both near Greenville. For the past four years, he has been a ranger at Rangeley Lake State Park in Rangeley.

Grafton Notch State Park is heavily used by travelers attracted by scenic roadside watercourses, waterfalls and rugged terrain. Appalachian Trail hikers have also made Grafton a favorite park, using the trail head there for access to the Mahoosuc and White Mountains.

Tri-Town Rescue

Tri-Town wishes everyone a good summer.

Training meeting is Wednesday, June 26, at 6:30 p.m. at the Woodstock Elementary School. The attendees are going to practice triage with a mass casualty situation. Members should note the time and location of the meeting.

Tri-Town accepts the challenge. BEARS and the Bethel Area Health Center have challenged Tri-Town attendees to a gurney race on July 20. Tri-Town is ready to prove its skill on all aspects of the patient care, especially those to be demonstrated in the contest.

Fourth of July is around the corner and Tri-Town members wish everyone a safe holiday, both on the road to your destination and after your arrival. Remember that firecrackers are not safe toys. Even with adult supervision, they can cause a lot of damage.

The new portable two-way radios have been ordered from Wilton. The should arrive soon.

Safety Tip of the Week

The brief rain last week wasn't enough to lower the fire danger in the woods. When enjoying the outdoors, be especially careful of cigarettes and campfires. All fires should be completely out, doused with water, and stirred dirt to be sure of their safety. And only start a fire in designated campsites.

Summer is here and warm, sunny days are upon us. Several heat-related problems can easily be avoided with proper precautions.

Too much sun can cause sunburn. This is probably the easiest to be avoided, with precautions of sunscreen and protective clothing. The secondary problems related to sunburn aren't as quickly noticed as the painful, dry skin.

The artificial sense of heat on the surface of the skin can cause a cooling of the internal core of the body. Cooling of the burned skin is important.

Long term exposure to the sun's radiation can lead to skin cancer. The beautiful tan of the today may not be the beautiful skin of the future.

LEGION PICNIC JUNE 30

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

Anyone interested in serving as a guide in the Dr. Moses Mason House during July and August should call the Bethel Historical Office at 824-2908 or Judith Haskell at 824-2724. An orientation for new guides will be held on Friday, June 28 at 2 p.m. in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House.

The July monthly meeting of the society will be held on Thursday, July 4, beginning at 7:30 p.m. on the back lawn of the Dr. Moses Mason House, weather permitting. It will be preceded by a picnic beginning at 6:30 p.m. Anyone attending should bring a lunch. Coffee, tea and lemonade will be furnished. If the weather is inclement the meeting will be held in the meeting room.

Featured speaker for the evening will be Society Director Stanley Howe who will make a presentation on the Greenback movement in western Maine in the 1870s and early 1880s. This movement, composed mostly of farmers and factory workers urged among other issues the continued production of greenback dollars by the government. This was considered quite a radical request in the period of time when gold was considered the only suitable medium of exchange. In an economy where prices were going down, farmers were particularly vulnerable since they relied on, high prices to make ends meet. Bethel was particularly affected by this movement and its citizens provided some of the highest totals in the county to candidates carrying the Greenback label. One of the national leaders of this drive was Solon Chase of Turner who campaigned throughout Maine with "them steers." Come to the meeting and learn something of a little known chapter in western Maine's past. Everyone is welcome.
